

FILM MEN COMING BACK HOME SUNDAY

TO PACK UP AT SEDALIA TOMORROW EVENING.

IS A GOOD STATE FAIR

Mr. Pickens Tells of the Experiences of Nodaway County Men at the Gates.

"Agriculture in Nodaway County," the farm film story of the Chamber of Commerce that is being shown at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia, will be packed up tomorrow night and the party in charge, Ralph Marcell, George A. Pickens, D. E. Hotchkin, and Roy A. Kinnaird, will start for home Sunday morning, according to a letter received today from Mr. Pickens.

Mr. Pickens says in his letters that men from Illinois, Nebraska and other states, who have visited a number of state fairs throughout the United States, say that Missouri has the best accommodations of any place they have been to for a state fair. They say that the grounds are the most beautiful and that no other state can put on as good a fair. Some movies of the grounds and buildings are being taken by Mr. Marcell for the films.

Mr. Pickens says that 100 feet more is to be added next year to the hog building, which is already the largest and best ventilated in the United States.

It is not possible for the men at Sedalia to list all of the Nodaway County folk who visit the tent in which the films are run but some of them which have not already been published are as follows: O. C. Hanna, Harvey Dowden, Harold Dowden, Cecil F. Brown, Ed O'Day, D. A. Ditto, now of Harrisonville but formerly at Nodaway County, Mr. and Mrs. Port Davis, Harold Golding and wife, L. B. Peters and two daughters, Laura Bell Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Nicholas, L. B. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis and daughter, Velma, and sons, Chester, Homer and Orville.

Mr. Pickens relates some incidents that Nodaway County gate men experienced which follow:

"In the 'Round-up' for tickets yesterday morning A. B. Dowden approached a negro and asked for her pass. She pulled up her skirt a little way and asked, 'Does you see it?' and Albert said 'Yep, I see it.' She was carrying the pass in her stocking.

"Jay Puckett is one of the most accommodating gate men down here. He was caught lighting a cigarette for a woman at the automobile gate.

"A tattooed woman had a lot of trouble getting through Roy Neal's gate, but after showing her credentials finally made it.

Chas. Wells is another accommodating young man from Nodaway County at one of the gates. He is even passing out sure cure for warts.

SPIRITUAL NEGLECT YOUNG PEOPLE FIND

NODAWAY CO. S. S. A. WORKING THROUGH ORGANIZED CLASS.

AT GRAHAM WEDNESDAY

Sessions Held at Three Churches—Discussed Working of Organization in Detail.

That the spiritual side of the four-fold life worked toward by the young people of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association is neglected was brought out at the meeting of the Fourth District, which comprises Hughes township, held at Graham Wednesday. The other three phases, social, mental and physical are well taken care of. The young people are attempting to take care of the spiritual through the organized class and this was the principal theme of the meeting.

The afternoon sessions were held at the Presbyterian Church. Forty-five young folks registered. It consisted of talks and discussions on the organized class. The principal speakers were Miss Eva Davis and Miss Margaret Louise Hosmer.

Following the afternoon session a supper was served on the lawn of the Christian Church and those present had a social hour.

The supper consisted of fried chicken, salad, pickles, bread and butter sandwiches and ice cream. Following the dinner were some toasts and an Indian council.

The evening session was held at the Methodist Church. The matter of the organized class was taken up more in detail and in addition to the principal speakers of the afternoon Lee Meek and Mrs. Walter Freytag spoke.

BATTERY C QUOTA IS NOW COMPLETE

WILL CONTINUE TO TAKE MORE MEN, HOWEVER.

FOR HEADQUARTERS CO.

Is Plan to Have Organization Consisting of Members of Band and World War Veterans.

With the signing up this morning of Peter Johnson for Battery C of the Missouri National Guard, being organized in Maryville, the required number of fifty was reached. Enlistments will continue to be taken for the battery, however, and an effort will be made to get seventy-five for it. Other men signing up since the list was published yesterday are Charles H. Sharp and John A. Parnan.

Captain Eugene A. Maynor, who is in charge of the work of organizing the battery, called General W. A. Raupp at Jefferson City this morning on long distance telephone and the general said that he would have an inspector here to look over the outfit September 1. Captain Maynor asked that the inspector be here at that time on account of that being the date at which the organization is to take possession of the David Angell garage it has rented.

It is now the plan to enlist enough more men to make a headquarters company in Maryville in addition to Battery C. The band would be a part of this company and the other members would consist of a minimum of twenty-eight men. It would be necessary to have twenty-two members for the band, making a total of fifty.

If the headquarters company is organized all the ex-service men belonging to Battery C can be transferred to it and enough other ex-service men will be enlisted to raise the number to twenty-eight. In this way it would be a unit composed entirely of veterans of the World War, while Battery C would be composed entirely of enlisted men who were not in the World War. Captain Maynor points out that there is a chance for two firsts and a second lieutenant in the headquarters company. In addition to the officers there is a large percentage of non-commissioned officers in a headquarters company.

Captain Maynor left today on business for the State Teachers College, of which he is coach, and will be gone for a week. During his absence Rolf Raynor, slated for first lieutenant of the battery, will have entire charge and will carry on the work of enlistment. He puts in considerable time each day at the headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The V. F. W. organization has shown the best of co-operation in the organization of the battery, having furnished their headquarters for the signing of the men and in some cases members have taken care of the signing up, when Captain Maynor or Mr. Raynor were not present.

The lights went off about 10:15 o'clock.

FEAR INABILITY TO TRANSPORT COAL

SHOPMEN'S STRIKE INTERFERED WITH TRANSPORTATION.

CABINET IS MEETING

Many Empty Cars at Mines But Lack of Engines Will Result in Congestion.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The cabinet members meeting today with President Harding at the White House to consider governmental policies in railroad strike declared that unless the shopmen's strike is settled within a reasonably short time the beneficial effects of the coal strike adjustment will be largely nullified through the inability of the railroads to transport the coal.

West Frankfort, Ill., Aug. 25.—Echo of the warning sounded by the cabinet members was reverberated in the Southern Illinois coal fields today. The mines are approaching their normal production but the operators pictured a dearth of cars within a few days which will greatly affect operators. Many empty cars are now at the mines but lack of engines to move those filled will likely result in congestion at the shaft.

MAYOR AND CONSULTING ENGINEER HAVE BUSY NIGHT

They Got Too Hot During the Fore-part and Then Too Cool in the Latter Part

Mayor Fred P. Robinson and Wynkopp Kierstedt, consulting engineer from Kansas City, had a busy night of it last night placing the new meter in the little cement cave which had been prepared for it near the pumping station. The meter was finally placed about 2 o'clock this morning and the connection with the water main will be done later.

Mayor Robinson said that it was uncomfortable working last night. In the evening it was uncomfortable hot and by 2 o'clock this morning it was uncomfortably cool.

Mr. Kierstedt is still here this morning and is advising with Mayor Robinson concerning other parts of the city water works. He looked over the filter yesterday and thought that part, if not all of the filter, should be replaced. He will make a more thorough investigation today. He has not had an opportunity to inspect the new dam which he designed because the dam has been covered with water.

THERMOMETER REACHED 99 AT 4 O'CLOCK YESTERDAY

Gale From Northwest at 10 o'clock Last Night Was a Great Relief to People.

Gasping Maryville had some real meteorological thrills yesterday when the mercury in Weather Observer J. R. Brink's temperature perched at 99 about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and then did a nose dive when the temperature went down to 58, the lowest mark reached during the night. Yesterday was the hottest day of the summer and left the citizens breathing like a lot of fish up on shore without even a heavy dew to assist them.

This drop in temperature followed the forecaster's prognostication of "cooler." It was about 10 o'clock last evening that the wind whipped around and delivered a gale from the northwest.

Today is very much more pleasant and comfortable.

SHOCK THRESHING PRACTICALLY OVER

BUT SOME GRAIN IS IN THE STACK.

BEEN HOT FOR PLOWING

Today With the Lower Temperature More Teams To Be Seen—Some Farm Notes.

Threshing on the farms in Nodaway County has been considerably retarded this year by the rains, but it is drawing near a close now. Practically all the shock threshing is finished. Only occasionally can a machine be found at work in the county.

There will be threshing for some time here and there, however, on account the fact that some of the grain has been stacked and is not yet ready. It is in case and the owners will wait a time and give it a chance to come out of it. A number of farmers south of Maryville have a part of all of their crops in the state. Among these are Mike Baker, who stacked his wheat; Nick Myers, and Frank Wyatt.

The reason given for stacking in some cases is that the owners of the crop were so busy with other things when the machines came through that they did not have the time to spare to thresh their own grain and trade work with their neighbors.

Some plowing has been done for wheat but not as much as one might expect. It has been so warm during the past two weeks that it has not been possible to get much ground turned over. It has been too hot for teams to stay in the field or to do much if they did. With the lowering of the temperature today a good many are in the fields who have not done much plowing yet.

Wilson Wray.

Wilson Wray, in the Myrtle Tree neighborhood was busy yesterday putting up the third crop of alfalfa which he has cut from his field. This is the first year that Mr. Wray has grown alfalfa on this ground and he has a pretty field of alfalfa.

Mr. Wray has just a four acre field this year and has taken twenty large loads of hay off of it. He said that he did not inoculate for alfalfa and that he did not use limestone nor cultivate the field. He has plowed up the east side of the patch and is going to inoculate this part and compare the difference in the growth of the hay. There is a little fox tail in the field which Mr. Wray says that he will get rid of next year by cultivating with a spring tooth harrow.

T. C. Cummins.

T. C. Cummins, east of Pickering, was in Maryville yesterday buying material for which to complete his new hog house. He has the foundation completed for a new building for his hogs which will be about 80x30 feet in dimensions and will open on the south to give the hogs plenty of sun light.

Mr. Cummins has about thirty fall pigs and five brood sows. They are all Poland-China's.

John Dowden.

Four teams were busy in the fields on the John Dowden farm yesterday afternoon and despite the hot weather they were turning a lot of soil over for the fall seed beds.

Patrick Gorman.

Patrick Gorman has eighty acres of corn which is about as fine as there is in the country. Mr. Gorman said yesterday that if the corn was as good when he got into the field to

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

REVIVAL OF BARTER

Back in the days when Missouri was still a frontier state, our pioneer forefathers used to make occasional trips to a trading post with a pack of skins which they would exchange with the storekeeper for meal and tobacco and ammunition and perhaps calico. This was what we have termed barter and is something which we commonly consider as having no place in our more advanced civilization today. Yet we are going back to the practice of a hundred years ago.

A press dispatch this week told of an arrangement between a German syndicate and the Argentine government by which the latter agrees to furnish the syndicate with 50,000 head of cattle and 60,000 tons of beef meat a year. The purchasing syndicate will not pay for the cattle and meat in cash but in German manufactured goods, which the Argentine government may select.

Rumania sought a loan of 45,000,000 gold francs from Switzerland with which to buy railroad rolling stock, particularly engines. "Impossible," said the Swiss. "But we have the engines, and you have cereals and petroleum, which we need." And arrangements were concluded for exchange. A similar barter is reported between Swiss manufacturers and Czechoslovakia.

We have come a long way since the day of our forefathers. These reported transactions are on a huge scale, yet the principle is the same. And they are proving valuable in avoiding the troublesome problem of international exchange. There is no need to consider the values of the Czechoslovakia kronen and the Swiss franc. Nor would there be any need to compare the American dollar with the German mark or the English pound sterling. It is the method which American manufacturers and exporters must adopt if they are to return their stabilized again.

IT'S AN ILL WIND—

Once more it appears that the world is not so large but that our doings on this side of the Atlantic have their effect in Europe.

While American industry has been threatened with complete paralysis because of the railroad and coal strikes, Great Britain bids fair to enjoy unusual prosperity. The shortage of coal in America has created an excessive demand for the product of the Welsh collieries. All available ships have been called into service but there are not enough bottoms to transport the coal, and freight rates have gone up 150 per cent, or from seven to seventeen shillings.

Once on this side of the Atlantic, these ships have difficulty in getting a cargo to carry back. The railroad strike has reduced the bulk of export commodities at our seaports. Consequently freight rates on the return journey have dropped, and American grain is transported at 11½ cents per hundred pounds instead of 14, with the possibility that there may be a further drop to 10 cents.

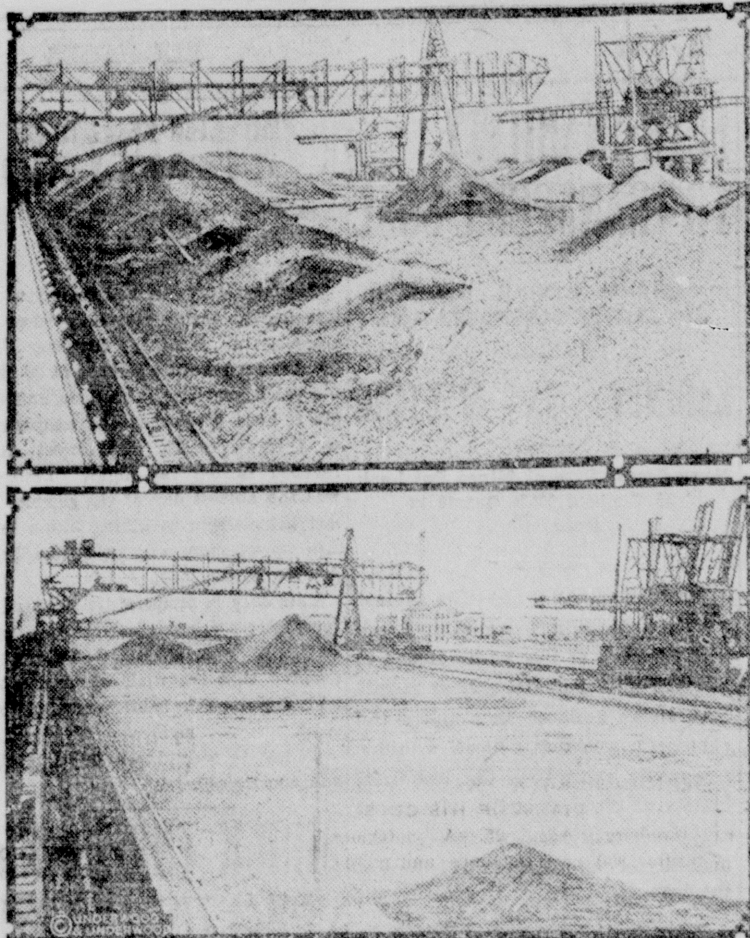

In England, much coal, a demand from America and insufficient ships send freight rates up. In America, too many ships and not enough cargo send freight rates down. Our English brothers sell their coal for good prices and buy our grain at a lower rate.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good.

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

Illinois Coal Piles Are Dwindling

A glance at these photographs shows it is high time that coal mining was resumed in Illinois. Above is the coal yard of a big coke company in South Chicago as it looked last April. Below is the same yard as it is now.

Forumettes

The only reason there seems
So many problems too big
To be solved is because
There are too many people too small.

One by one the vacationists are returning to Maryville, some without the pep they showed when they left.

Young women are showing much interest in the lengthening of the skirts. The idea is to let the other girls do it first to see how it looks.

A farmer out along the Wilcox road was sitting by the roadside the other day, gun in hand looking for a weasel which had been visiting his chicken yard when a motorist came along. He threw his hands in the air and exclaimed: "arrest me, officer, if you must but I swear I was not going faster than 25 miles an hour."

We asked a man the other day if a certain young woman was a relative of his. "Well not exactly," he replied. "But she now is engaged to my divorced wife's first husband."

Our neighbor sent her little boy to the grocery for a dozen eggs and he dropped them. "Did you break any?" asked our neighbor. "No," he replied. "But the shells came off some of them."

Uncle Abner says he has heard of people who claim they do as they please but he has yet to see them.

A bell boy in a hotel told us a hard luck story the other day. He carried a heavy bag three blocks for a fat woman who gave him a cookie for a tip.

Our idea of misdirected energy is when a young man runs after a Maryville girl who doesn't appreciate him.

Louise, the stenographer, says a woman may be afraid of a mouse but the reason she is not afraid of some men is because they have the spirit of a mouse.

The observer of the passerby tells us that Maryville has not outgrown the village idea in that gossip in still exchanged over the backyard fences just as it is done in Podunk.

Although sympathy costs nothing there are people too stingy to give much of it.

Vagrant Musings.

That man will be called blessed who finds a way to make the streets safe for pedestrians.

Filling stations give you free air and a lot of people give you hot air.

Learning from experience of others is like having the baby give you his bottle.

There are people so argumentative that they will not eat food which agrees with them.

Famous Bores.

The fifth in our list of most famous bores is the person who calls you on the telephone and when you answer says "Do you know who this is talking?"

HAY FEVER SUFFERERS.

The annual "choo choo" campaign is now on among a multitude of hay fever sufferers. Summer resorts and locations that claim immunity from this depressing affliction are crowded with seekers for relief. Those who can't get away are either grimly bearing their accustomed discomfort, or rushing to doctors and specialists for the latest forms of treatment.

Medical science for the past few years has held out much hope that this distressing malady can be cured by inoculation. It seems to be due mostly from the pollen from various kinds of vegetation, and the problem is to determine what particular pollen it is that causes the irritation in the sensitive air passages. The fact that a certain serum did not give relief does not necessarily mean that the patient is incurable. It is more likely that there was a failure to discover the particular variety of the pollen that caused the trouble.

This malady is a very singular thing because in most ways the human body seems well adapted to its natural environment and does not quarrel with the substances it encounters. But many pollens seem like poisons with the intense irritation they cause in some sensitive air passages.

Very slight causes will produce these symptoms. Some one reported recently that he was attacked with hay fever when ever he went to his room at a summer hotel, the apartment being covered with straw matting that may have caused the trouble.

Some folks of course exaggerate their suffering, and if they would think less of their own discomfort and more of their ordinary occupations during this period, they would reduce their bad feelings to a minimum. But it is no imaginary disease, and a multitude of people are hoping eagerly that further investigation will give the medical men a better control over this troublesome affliction.

SIX LIONS FREED FROM CARS TAKE POSSESSION OF FRENCH R. R. YARDS

Cherbourg, Aug. 25.—A freight car, improperly handled, crashed into a bumper in the station here and split in two.

From the wreckage there emerged, unhurt, half dozen fullgrown lions, property of an arriving circus.

Within two minutes not a train hand could be seen in the railroad yard—not a passenger on the platforms. Later one or two hold inhabitants of the town appeared, armed with swords, rifles and hand grenades. The police force, with revolvers, prepared to arrest the beasts for arriving without proper passports.

The lions glanced about at the small town, yawned and fell asleep. Later they walked into another car without protest. The Cherbourg station filled with travelers again.

DOG SAVES MISTRESS FROM ANGRY HEIFERS

Rochester, N. H., Aug. 25.—A pet dog of Elsie Horne, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Horne, who live on a farm near Farmington, saved the life of its young mistress by driving away three enraged young heifers that had attacked the child. The heifers became enraged at a red hair ribbon the girl wore. She was badly butted before the dog arrived.

PERTINENT POLITICAL PRATTLE.

By A. T. Edmonston.

Jefferson City, Aug. 25.—When the Democratic gladiators who weathered the storm on primary day and became the party nominees for the fall election, gather in Excelsior Springs at noon, the second Tuesday in September to conclude, one of the first important moves is to name a chairman of the new Democratic State Committee. Plenty of good material exists in the rank and file of democracy and that the selection will be a live wire who will pilot the ticket to an overwhelming victory on Tuesday, November 7, is a cinched certainty.

Among those who have been suggested for the place is Ed A. Glenn of Louisiana who was campaign manager for Senator James A. Reed in the recent initial skirmish and who proved his efficiency and ability by leading the big nomination for that warhorse. Then there is Attorney Sam W. Fordyce of St. Louis who also played a prime part in the big, democratic senatorial tournament which has now gone down in history as the hardest fought primary tilt ever pulled off in Missouri. Former Congressman William L. Igoe and former Postmaster Colin M. Selph, both of St. Louis, and Joseph A. Shannon of Kansas City who held the honor of a few years ago, are also mentioned for the place, not overlooked Thomas J. Pendergast of Kansas City; William H. Hughes of St. Louis; former Attorney-General John T. Barker of Kansas City; former Senator Frank H. Farris of Rolla; Attorney Willis H. Merrett of Popular Bluff; State Senator Michael Kenney of St. Louis; Steve Hunter of Cape Girardeau; State Senator Michael Casey of Kansas City; former Secretary of State Sam B. Cook, the Jefferson City banker; Attorney Charles A. Mayer of St. Joseph, and Col. Ruby Garrett, the Kansas City lawyer, and "doughboy" who entered the National Guards of Missouri as a private, was mustered into service and hurried to France with his Company, and who emerged from the World War as a real "Colonel."

Judge Daniel G. Taylor of St. Louis who is a delegate at large in the Constitutional convention now in session might with hard pressure, be lured into accepting the strenuous honor but the chances are against it. Sam Lazarus of St. Louis, has also been mentioned, but, like Tom Pendergast of Kansas City and Judge Taylor of St. Louis, he would probably decline because of his extensive business affiliation.

Secretary, State Committee.

A position which will be hard to fill is that of Secretary of the new State Committee. Thomas H. Fisher of Marshall holds the post now and he may be retained on account of his proficiency and adaptability. Then there is Gaty Pallen, the St. Louis newspaperman who was publicity man in the Reed headquarters there before the primary—Frank Armstrong, a Cass County newspaperman who worked day and night in west Missouri to bring about the renomination of Senator Reed, may have the honor thrust upon him. He was publicity man for the Democratic State Committee in 1920, working overtime during that campaign against unusual odds, to elect the ticket. Joseph A. Goldman, editor and publisher of the Democrat-Tribune of Jefferson City who labored hard and long without recompense to carry Cole County on primary day for Senator Reed with success crowning his efforts, has many friends who would like to see him land this wearing, trying post. T. Speed Mosby, the Cole County lawyer, author and raconteur who made a brilliant but losing race for one of the Supreme Court Judgeship nominations, could ably fill the place if the glory was bestowed his way.

For Treasurer of the State Committee either Counsel or Fordyce of St. Louis, Judge Taylor or Tom Pendergast would fill the bill and easily raise the finances needed during the coming campaign. Judge Jesse A. McDonald of St. Louis who presided at the huge, enthusiastic Reed rally in the coliseum in St. Louis the Saturday before the primary, has also been suggested.

Platform Strictly Democratic.

The party platform upon which the ticket will travel to victory in November will be easier drafted than is imagined. Among the planks will be one which will advocate a sweeping reduction in all state taxation. The exhibition of the many costly commissions and consolidated departments with high salaried but utterly useless figure-heads which the republican legislators created a year ago, will be emphatically advocated in another resolution. The present purely democratic institutions, the primary system and the initiative and referendum will be endorsed with the suggestion that they be made more effective and far-reaching, and attention called to the fact that with such sections in the new constitution the rule of the people will continue supreme. It is predicted that Senator Reed will draft those particular planks so that the language will be emphatic and scoring enough to leave no doubt as to their meaning. They constitute privileges which republican leaders would like to abolish to restore absolute rule of the "bosses" and the "interests," with no fear then of an appeal to the electors through either the initiative or the referendum.

Senator Reed owes his renomination to the primary, it is pointed out. Had the "big interests" and certain erstwhile party dictators been in control he would have been relegated to everlasting political oblivion instead of being renascent into power.

One resolution will indorse the last national democratic administration and point with pride to the doctrines, teachings and principles of Thomas Jefferson which still sway and control the party. The failure of the present republican Congress to agree upon a just bonus measure for demobilized soldiers will receive a vicious thrust. The party will go on record for the further payment of a state bonus to Missouri's ex-service men who have not received, through a huge republican blunder, the amount legally allotted to each through the special election of last August. The restoration of state's rights, and the curbing of centralization of government at Washington and rule by Federal Supreme Court injunctions and mandates will receive active recognition in another plank.

From St. Louis comes the gratifying announcement that Senator Reed will sweep that city next November, carrying the state and local ticket there with him. It is a known fact that fully 35,000 new democrats of that former heavy G. O. P. burg who were republican at the last election, will vote the "only reliable party" ticket straight on November 7. A former republican plurality of 50,000 will be turned into a democratic St. Louis landslide of not less than 20,000.

It is predicted that not less than fourteen, and perhaps fifteen of the sixteen congressmen to be chosen in November, will be democratic. Among those for whom victory is assured is Mrs. St. Clair Moss of Columbia, the democratic nominee in the eighth district. The only congressional district conceded to the republicans is the tenth which includes the major portion of the south half of St. Louis City and all of St. Louis county. It is predicted that not less than ninety Missouri counties will send democratic representatives to the next legislature. In addition fifteen of the seventeen state senators to be chosen in November will be democrats. Former State Senator Frank H. Farris will sweep the twenty-fourth district, in south-central Missouri, and A. L. McCawley of Carthage, the twenty-eighth. Such a termination of the November election will make both branches of the next General Assembly safely democratic.

HUMOR IN THE NEWS.

Washington, Aug. 25. (Capital News Service).—A Washington, D. C., judge has issued a court order restraining one E. V. Bryant from killing his wife. If Mr. Bryant allows his memory to play him tricks and forgets and does kill his wife, he is apt to find himself in trouble for contempt of court.

A native capitalist in Guatemala is building a palatial hotel in his home town, which is to be "Americano" from prepared roofing to plumbing. Incidentally it is to cater to an extensive variety of thirsts. Believing that since prohibition the United States must be a large expanse of desert, people with white-clad bartenders out of a job, the hotel proprietor has admirably dressed the United States commercial representative in his country with a request that he secure for the new hotel one bona fide, home grown and specially trained bartender.

A London, England, minister has been denouncing his colleagues as "too effeminate." One of them has taken umbrage at the remark and challenged the offender to a twenty mile hike to see who is and who isn't "soft." In accepting the challenge the alleged offender says he can walk as well as talk for the glory of God!

In Sayville, N. Y., a man ninety-five years old, was attacked by a swarm of bees. His daughter ran to his aid, knocked him down with a broom, swept him clean of stingers, picked him up, and carried him to a hospital, where it is stated he will recover.

"Dolly, I'm glad you got Kellogg's Corn Flakes and fruit for supper. I'm so glad out with the heat that Kellogg's is the only food that would appeal to my appetite. It digests so easily and yet I know it is nourishing! Guess I'll have another helping. Those Kellogg's are delicious."

THE FEMINE HAND BAG.

It would be interesting if some statistician could compute the number of women's hand bags that are lost annually, and the amount of time spent in hunting for them.

The modern woman is dependent upon this article of her outfit, in which she carries money, spectacles, railroad tickets, and various articles and emergency aids to beauty. As fashion deprives her of the commodious pockets afforded the male animal, she can hardly be blamed for her dependence upon this article of baggage. But while engrossed in conversation it is very easy to drop the bag, and soon there is a wild search for the valuables.

It is very common when a mixed company goes out for some lady to lose her hand bag, and many and protracted are the delays resulting therefrom. Some genius needs to devise a plan by which the receptacle can be firmly attached to the person of its owner. Something that will make it stay put and stay in style.

JENNY LIND'S BROTHER BURIED IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 25.—Charles Gustav William Lind, who died here recently in his seventy-third year, was intensely proud of the fact that he was the brother of Jenny Lind. "the Swedish Nightingale." His famous sister was twenty-nine and a traveling concert singer when he was born, yet he recalled vividly that she sent money home to her parents when he was a little child. He saved thousands of newspaper clippings telling of the triumphs. Part of his life Lind spent in the meat business, and in his declining years he worked as a janitor.

BEER PRICE IN PARIS DEPENDS ON THE PLACE

Paris, Aug. 25.—How much is a glass of beer in Paris? All depends upon where you buy it. Not long ago a certain citizen amused himself by making a tour of many cafes and keeping a record of the price, which varied from four to forty cents. Lately this same individual has been carrying on other investigations and has found a cafe which charges about four cents for anything you care to drink, be it beer, coffee, wine or extra stout. This is a novel idea, and the cafe is probably the only one of its kind to be found in the capital.

JUDGE HEARS HIS FIRST JURY TRIAL IN 25 YEARS

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 25.—I guess I won't need a vacation," Judge Lueders said recently in starting the first trial by jury in Probate Court during twenty-five years. "This is change enough for me."

The jury was impaneled to settle a dispute between the County Commissioners and two landowners who could not agree to terms on property which was to be condemned in order to abolish a grade crossing on the B. & O. Railroad.

ENGLISH NOTABLES TOLD TO QUIT LADY NICOTINE.

London, Aug. 25.—English smokers—and their number is legion—are casting doubtful glances at "Lady Nicotine."

First, Lord Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor, was ordered to abstain from big black cigars, lest his eyesight be threatened. Now "Bob" Smille, the veteran labor leader, has been advised that unless he gives up his strong, black clay pipe he will go totally blind.

Physicians claim that all will be well if smokers will only decrease their tobacco as their ages increase.

Lloyd George Bursts Forth as Poet; Writes of "Shadows Anthwart Dale"

London, Aug. 25.—Premier Lloyd George has blossomed out as a bard. "Cymrum Un" is the title of the Prime Minister's first poetic effort. Lloyd George has written the words for a Welsh song, full of euphonic phrases such as "Glewion a fegir yn eu col."

Translated into English, the Premier's poetic effort is as follows:

While hills their shadows fling athfare the dale

Stalwarts will ever rise within their pale,

While they, as watchers, guard the placid land

No lack shall be of patriots to command.

Cambria's children dare deceit and Rocks of our nation constitute our might.

And as the hills from cloudy fetters rise,

When jocund Phoebus wakes the morning skies,

So flees the bondage holding Wales in thrall,

Dawn of the morning—listen to its call.

Children of Cambria, light is near at hand,

Morn breaks at last, and dawn is o'er the land.

Advertising is the Sunlight of Business

To all that is healthy and vital in business, it means increased strength and growth; but advertising is a fierce heat which withers and consumes that which is unsound.

A business which is not a good business should not be advertised. A business which would not benefit from widespread appreciation of its ideals had better acquire a new set of ideals.

gather it as it appeared from the road that the only way he could crib the crop would be to build a shed over it and call it gathered.

Mr. Gorman had eight horses in the field yesterday morning doing some fall plowing but it was so hot that he almost let one team get too warm. The boys decided that it was too hot to work the teams yesterday afternoon so they turned them out and hit the trail for the fishing hole.

J. C. McMahon.

The J. C. McMahon farm was busy place yesterday with the harvesting the crop of millet. They have done a little fall plowing already this year.

George Alexander.

George Alexander is busy these days caring for about fifty head of pure-bred white face breeding cattle. He has part of the stock on his farm and part of them are being cared for by J. N. Alexander. Mr. Alexander is a great believer in the pure-bred livestock for the farms. He has a system of feeding his animals so that he keeps them in good condition at a minimum expense.

Morrison Lawson.

Morrison Lawson, near Orsburg, one of Nodaway County's promoters of pure bred Spotted Poland-China hogs, says that he will not have a sale of hogs this year because of his bad luck in losing about sixty head of pure-bred pigs this spring. He has about fifteen brood sows at present and says that if he has good luck this next year that he will have another sale. His sale last year was the first one and was very satisfactory to Mr. Lawson.

He has a bin of fine looking wheat which he threshed off of his farm this year and which made him an average of thirty bushels to the acre. He had three teams in the field yesterday plowing for about twenty-five acres of wheat which he expects to sow this fall.

Luther Pistole.

Luther Pistole culled out thirty-eight lambs from his herd of sheep yesterday and is preparing to feed them out for the market. He was busy yesterday afternoon grinding corn and will fatten the lambs on a corn ration.

Mr. Pistole is an admirer of the Shropshire sheep and in addition to the thirty-eight lambs he has fifty old sheep which he will keep for breeding purposes. He has one registered Shropshire buck and expects to buy another one this fall.

ANTI-SCANDAL CLUB TO WAR ON GOSSIPS

Unlock a Padlock, Lock It, Make Pledge Not to Talk Unkindly; That's the Pledge.

London, Aug. 25.—"Turn the key on scandal."

That is the motto of the latest society in England.

You hold a padlock in the hand, with due solemnity turn the key, and pronounce these words:

"I promise to do my utmost never to say an unkind thing about anyone, whether true or untrue."

And having said, henceforth you are admitted a member of the "Padlock Society."

Dr. Armstrong Smith, of Letchworth, England, is the founder of the movement and his ambition will not rest until millions of people in every country of the world have enlisted under the banner.

"In the course of a few weeks ten countries have joined us," says Dr. Armstrong Smith, "and in another month we hope to have a million members. Our adherents are scattered over Britain, United States, Ireland, France, Austria, Holland, Hungary, Finland, Spain and Switzerland."

"What gives me most satisfaction is that two of our first members were respectively a policeman and a hotel keeper."

The rules of the society are simple and must be accepted wholeheartedly by every entrant. They are:

1. Get a padlock and unlock it.
2. Repeat the pledge in the presence of three witnesses and lock the padlock.

3. To remain a member repeat the promise with an open padlock in the presence of three members every New Year's Day.

There are no fees, no forms and no inquiries. All the society insists on is a promise to try to be more tolerant.

OHIO SCHOOL KIDDIES

CAREFUL OF CONDUCT
AROUND XMAS SEASON

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 25.—School children in Cincinnati still believe in Santa Claus if their relative reluctance to "play hockey" during the month of December may be taken as an indication. In that month there is less truancy than in any other month of school year, according to a report just filed by John J. O'Donnell, Attendance Officer of the Board of Education here. The "merry month of May" leads all others in tempting the children away from the tiresome books to the great outdoors and freedom such as Huck Finn enjoyed, while June runs it a close second. It is then the call of nature hits the kiddies strongest, the report says.

Manufacturers who advertise must give value, because they have a good name to protect. Sheriff Has Returned.

(From Albany Ledger).

Sheriff Dale Brown returned to this county the latter part of last week from his absence, and has spent a part of the past week in Albany. It is understood that the affairs of the office have been straightened out satisfactorily.

All of the sheriff's friends, and in fact, citizens in general, are glad that the affair has turned out as it has, and we all hope that he will buckle down and give the affairs of the office more of his time than he has been doing. He is a capable young man, and there is none but who hopes he will make good in his capacity as sheriff.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN OPENING DAY AT S. T. C.

New Coach Says That Prospects are Good for a First Class Team.

Preparations are being made at the State Teachers College for the fall athletics. Captain Eugene A. Maynor, the new coach, has prepared a new dummy and had a pit dug for shavings for the men to fall on during their football practice, so that they will not be hurt.

The new coach says that he feels that there are prospects for a good football team. Considerable of the football material of last year will be in school again this fall and a number of good men are expected to enter. Several men of good qualifications have made inquiry regarding what they could obtain here and talked as though they would enter.

The mattress of "individual comfort"

Facts You Should Know About a Mattress Before You Buy One

Mattresses look very much alike, but there is the greatest difference between them. The softness, elasticity and durability of cotton felt mattresses depend on the length and quality of the fibres of the cotton used and the way they are laid.

Many mattresses sold as the best cotton felts, are made from short fibre cotton that has no life at all.

We have cotton felt mattresses in all grades ranging in price from $9.70 up to $38.25 for the genuine Sealy. Each grade the best you can buy for the price paid.

Much depends upon the quality of your bed. A good mattress put on your bed now will insure you good healthful rest for many years to come. Don't you think the purchase of one is really a good investment?
